Friday Night - June 16 Gospel Entertainment

THE FREEMANS

History, experience and spiritual wisdom are three attributes used to describe the foundation of the Freeman ministry. Deeply rooted with family, the Freemans' experience spans 30 years. From Darrell's entrance at age 16 with his family's group, the Pathways, to Chris's award-winning teenage years with the Hinsons, the Freemans know the ins and outs of Southern Gospel music.

Now in their 20th year, the Freemans still perform approximately 250 dates a year and continue to experience tremendous success. With the release of their new album, Closer, in January of 2003, they pray their ministry will continue to bless the lives of those they come in contact with. They truly are one of Southern Gospel music's favorite families.

EXCEPT 4 GRACE

Except 4 Grace is an all women's quartet whose desire to share God's love shows through in every song they sing. The group consists of Donita Clay, Tama Lester, Carey Nix, and Carlene White, all natives of McCurtain County. They attend the First Assembly of God in Broken Bow, Oklahoma. The ladies have been singing in church all of their lives.

The Jody Brown Indian Family is a group who loves the Lord with all their hearts. They have great family harmony with a style that sets them apart. Watching this group is always exciting and they enjoy life to its fullest. God has blessed them so much that its hard not to be excited about what God has given them to do. They make their home in the town of Robbinsville, NC and they have been singing for thirteen years.

The JBIF has also enjoyed a number of accolades during their thirteen years in Christian music. This group has consistently kept songs on all the National charts for the past five years making them one of the most sought after groups for many coveted events.

Saturday Night - June 17 Mark Chesnutt - Zoom City

Mark Chesnutt is one of Country's true musical treasures. Critics have hailed him as a classic Country singer of the first order and some of Country music's most elite entertainers from George Jones to George Strait echo this sentiment. Mark Chesnutt's stature is easily gauged; he has 14 No. 1 hits, 23 top ten singles, four platinum albums and five gold records.

Country music critics and fans alike need look no further when it comes to Country music basics. If you ask Mark Chesnutt he'll tell you, "It's the music that has kept me around this long." In a world that sometimes confuses style with substance, Mark Chesnutt possesses both. Chesnutt got his start in the honky-tonks of Beaumont, Texas, learning from his father, Bob Chesnutt, a singer, record collector, and major fan of classic country music. Mark embraced his father's influence and began making a name for himself.

Mark's dedication paid off. He developed a fan base that is true blue which in turn helped his records climb the charts one right after the other, making him one of Billboard's ten most-played radio artists of the '90's. Mark's singles were some of the decade's most memorable, from the fun tempo "Bubba Shot The Jukebox" to emotional ballad "I'll Think Of Something." Mark is easily identified for his string of hits including "Brother Jukebox," "Blame It On Texas," "Old Flames Have New Names," "Old Country," "It Sure Is Monday," "Almost Goodbye," "I Just Wanted You To Know," "Going Through The Big D," "It's A Little Too Late," "Gonna Get A Life," and one of his biggest, "I Don't Want To Miss A Thing" which held its position at the top of the charts for four consecutive weeks.

All the recorded highlights he has amassed take a back seat, however, to his first love. Mark Chesnutt lives for the stage. "I just make records because I want people to come see my show," he says with a grin. "Just listening to music is great," he says, "but I've got to be out there on stage making it." Fans who have seen him perform agree.

Zoom City — the name was born from Oklahoma City, the thriving new metropolitan area located in the very center of the travel routes that span the nation. First, as a point of interest as travelers "zoomed" through to their destinations - but then as a destination in itself. Zoom City, a place with a foundation built on the past, encompassing the best of the present and always looking to the future.

Zoom City, the band, is much like its namesake, rooted deeply in the rich traditions of classic rock but with the versatility to cover the best of the present.
